The BOMA Georgia Foundation advances real estate education and research and is exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, and contributions are deductible as charitable contributions under the law. Since the foundation was created, it has awarded nearly 1,000 scholarships and released more than 20 research projects and reports.

The Internal Revenue Service requires all nonprofit associations to provide the following statement: "As a result of changes adopted as part of the Revenue Reconciliation Act of 1993, 9% of your dues payment to BOMA Georgia is not deductible by members as an ordinary and necessary business expense." Tax revisions have declared lobbying expenses are not deductible.

Please enclose one copy of this application with your payment. Thank you.
